Headline:

More showers today but turning drier later.

Today:

A cloudy start with a band of showery rain in the west. Rain soon clears to leave a mixture of sunny spells and scattered showers, heavy at times and possibly thundery. Feeling rather warm with light winds. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:

The last of the day's showers expected to clear through the evening, leaving a largely dry night with plenty of clear spells. The odd shower remains possibly over the east. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Thursday:

A murky start in places, but soon turning bright and sunny for most, but with scattered showers developing from late morning, some heavy. Cooler along coasts. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:

Another day of scattered showers and sunny spells on Friday. Showery rain potentially heavy on Saturday. Some heavy and possibly thundery showers again on Sunday. Rather cool throughout.
